Nurturing Minds, Inspiring Futures

At Pacific World School, we believe that true education transcends the confines of the classroom. It is a dynamic journey that nurtures curiosity, builds character, celebrates individuality and empowers young minds to engage meaningfully with the world around them.

Our academic pursuits are thoughtfully complemented by experiential and enrichment opportunities that encourage students to question, explore, collaborate and innovate. Through workshops, educational visits, interdisciplinary engagements, assemblies and special programmes, we strive to transform learning from a process of acquiring knowledge into an experience of discovering its relevance in the real world.

Our students have also brought immense pride to the school through their participation in inter-school competitions and diverse platforms. Equally significant is our endeavour to nurture empathetic and socially responsible individuals. Through community outreach programmes, service initiatives and awareness campaigns, our students have actively contributed to causes that promote the well-being of society.

Our global engagements and intercultural learning opportunities further encourage students to look beyond geographical and cultural boundaries and appreciate their role in an interconnected world.

The pages of this newsletter are a celebration of these journeys—of ideas explored, challenges embraced, talents discovered, achievements earned and lives touched. Each activity is a meaningful thread in the larger tapestry of holistic education.

As we move forward, our endeavour remains steadfast: to create an environment where every learner is encouraged to think critically, act responsibly, lead courageously and serve compassionately.

For us, education is not simply about preparing students to succeed in the world; it is about empowering them to contribute to a better, more inclusive and harmonious world.

Fostering Excellence Through Innovation and Experiential Learning: The Pacific Way

At Pacific World School, academics extends beyond textbooks and conventional classrooms, embracing a student-centric, competency-based, and experiential approach that transforms learning into an enriching journey of exploration and discovery. Through innovative pedagogies, hands-on experiences, collaborative projects, and technology-integrated learning, students are encouraged to question, create, communicate, collaborate, and apply knowledge meaningfully.

Across Classes III–V, experiential learning takes centre stage. Grade V students explored environmental conservation through the Earth in 8 Lines poetry competition and strengthened mathematical concepts through rectangular arrays and the Sieve of Eratosthenes. Students of Grades III–IV brought Alice in Wonderland to life through character presentation, role play, and dramatization, while Delhi Darshan enabled students to explore Delhi's heritage through research, presentations, and travel planning.

Science comes alive through hands-on experiments, model-making, and digital simulations, while Mathematics and Social Science integrate practical applications, inquiry-based learning, and field activities. Art further inspires imagination through lino-cut printing, paper collage, and portrait making. Thus, academics is delivered through experiences that cultivate critical thinking, creativity, collaboration, communication, adaptability, and leadership, preparing students to thrive in an ever-evolving world.

Across senior classes, the English Department nurtures creativity and artistic expression through the Family Newspaper, nature poetry, role play, and dramatization. The Hindi Department employs storytelling, debates, poetry recitation, and creative writing to develop linguistic proficiency and cultural appreciation. Commerce students engage in market simulations, data journalism, and newspaper-based activities, connecting economic concepts with everyday life.

Cyber Security & Cyber Hygiene

Think Before You Click!

As technology becomes an integral part of everyday life, being digitally aware is no longer an option—it is an essential life skill. Keeping this in focus, Pacific World School organised an insightful and engaging Cyber Security and Cyber Hygiene Workshop for the students of Classes VIII–XI on 6 July 2026, conducted by Dr. Rakshit Tandon, a renowned National Cyber Security Expert. Moving beyond theoretical concepts, Dr. Tandon brought the realities of the digital world to life through compelling real-life stories and examples of cybercrime. Students were sensitised to emerging online threats such as phishing, malicious APK files, financial fraud, digital arrest scams and online gaming addiction. The session encouraged students to question what they see online, recognise warning signs and make informed decisions before sharing information or clicking on unfamiliar links.

A key highlight of the workshop was the live demonstration of privacy and security settings on commonly used platforms such as Instagram, WhatsApp and Gmail. These demonstrations helped students understand how simple changes in account settings can strengthen digital safety and protect personal information. Dr. Tandon also emphasised the importance of maintaining a responsible digital footprint, reminding students that online actions can leave a lasting trail.

The session was highly interactive, with students actively participating, sharing their experiences and raising pertinent questions. The engaging question-and-answer session further encouraged students to think critically about their online behaviour and the responsibilities that come with being a digital citizen.

The workshop concluded with a powerful message: cyber safety begins with individual awareness and responsible choices. Students left the session better informed, more vigilant and empowered to navigate the digital world with confidence, caution and ethical responsibility.

MARATHON FOR CYCLISTS' SAFETY

"Ride Safe. Be Seen. Make Every Journey Count."

As part of Global Youth Service Day (GYSD) 2026, Pacific World School, in association with AFS Intercultural Programs, took a meaningful step towards fostering responsible citizenship and creating awareness about road safety through the "Marathon for Cyclists' Safety" initiative.

Held on 23 May 2026, the initiative brought together students of Grades IX–XII for a purposeful Marathon Awareness Drive at Nirala Estate Society. With enthusiasm and a strong sense of social responsibility, the students reached out to the community to spread awareness about cyclist safety, road etiquette, and the importance of visibility while cycling.

The initiative encouraged students to look beyond their classrooms and recognise their role as responsible members of society. Students who commute independently, reside in Nirala Estate, or regularly cycle to school were encouraged to participate and become voices for safer roads. Through their energetic presence and meaningful interactions, they conveyed a simple yet powerful message—that road safety is a shared responsibility.

More than an awareness drive, the initiative became an opportunity for our young Pacificans to practise the values of empathy, leadership, active citizenship, and community engagement. Their participation reflected the true spirit of GYSD—young people coming together to create positive change, one meaningful action at a time.

The campaign reaffirmed that when young minds take the lead, even a small initiative can create ripples of awareness and inspire a safer, more responsible community.

"The greatest change begins when young people choose to make a difference."

“The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others.” — Mahatma Gandhi

Creativity took centre stage through vibrant finger painting, leaf collages, climate-change posters and interactive activities exploring shapes and colours. Each session was filled with curiosity, creativity and joyful participation, creating an environment where learning became an experience to be explored rather than merely a lesson to be learnt.

Over the past four sessions, our IAYP students have demonstrated remarkable commitment to teaching children at Sakshar Niketan NGO. What began as an act of voluntary service has evolved into a meaningful journey of empathy, sensitivity, humility and personal growth.

The impact has been encouraging—not only in the children’s academic development, but also in their confidence, social interaction and overall demeanour. For our IAYP students, the experience has been equally transformative, reinforcing a powerful truth: when we help others grow, we grow too.

Through every lesson taught, every smile shared and every moment of connection, this journey has reinforced a powerful truth: when we help others learn, grow and believe in themselves, we discover new strengths within ourselves too.

This journey stands as a testament to the spirit of IAYP—nurturing compassionate, responsible and socially conscious young citizens who inspire change through service and shared humanity.

Together, we learn, we serve, and we create ripples of positive change that extend far beyond the classroom.

The Independence Day celebration on 14 August added a special cultural dimension to the initiative. NGO students presented folk dances, poetry and patriotic skits, while our Pacificans contributed speeches on the significance of Independence and an engaging quiz on Indian heritage.

This initiative stands as a beautiful reminder that education is not only about acquiring knowledge—it is also about sharing it, spreading hope and growing together.
